Crude Daily Commentary

- CPC Blend Nov program up 336,946 b/d on month
 - All sweet grades under pressure in Mediterranean
- Mediterranean sweet crudes traded lower Oct. 12 after news the CPC Blend provisional program for November — at 5.4 million mt — was significantly larger the 4.24 million mt set to load in October.

"Everything is softening," one Mediterranean trader said.

Some 45 CPC Blend cargoes — 30 of which are Suezmaxes and 15 Aframaxs — are scheduled to load in November, up from 33 in October, of which none were Aframaxs, according to a copy of the program seen by S&P Global Commodity Insights Oct. 12..

Using a conversion factor of 7.8 barrels/mt, loadings are set to average 1.4 million b/d in November, up from 1.07 million b/d in October.

The 12-month average for CPC is 1.32 million b/d despite loadings previously being beset by issues at the fields and terminals, a CPC blend operator said.

While Kazakhstan is part of the OPEC+ alliance which agreed on Oct. 5 to cut aggregate out by 2 million b/d in November, data from S&P Global Commodity Insights showed Kazakhstan was producing only 71% of its allocated 1.71 million b/d quota in September.
